Village Apartments of the Jewish Federation in South Orange to Hold Men's Club Discussion Group on Jan. 27
Area Residents are Invited to Participate in Monthly Gathering at Senior Living Community

SOUTH ORANGE, N.J., January 18, 2016 – Men ages 62 and older who are looking for lively conversation about topics of the day are invited to Village Apartments of the Jewish Federation in South Orange for its monthly Men's Club meeting, to be held on Wednesday, January 27 at 3:00 p.m. Male residents at the senior living community gather together on the fourth Wednesday of every month to discuss politics, current events and other topics of interest. Men from South Orange and surrounding towns are welcome to join in the discussions; the program is free of charge. The meetings are noted on the community's monthly calendar online at <http://ow.ly/OKSkQ>. Village Apartments of the Jewish Federation holds many different types of programs and activities for its residents, including musical performances, creative arts and exercise classes, and health and wellness presentations. For more information about the Men's Club or to reserve a seat, contact April Osborne at (973) 530-3971.

Village Apartments is located at 110 Vose Avenue, walking distance from the many dining, shopping and entertainment destinations of downtown South Orange and a short drive to area attractions. The residence offers a range of housing options, services and amenities for independent seniors; it is one of four senior living communities in Essex and Morris counties that are owned and managed by The Jewish Community Housing Corporation of Metropolitan New Jersey (JCHC). For information about Village Apartments, visit www.jchcorp.org or call (973) 763-0999. To check the monthly calendar, click on the Village Apartments tab on the left and select from the menu.
